

Lecture Series: Northeastern Wisconsin Audubon Society announces...

Latest Results & Basics of the Wisconsin Breeding Bird Atlas II

-by-

Erin Giese

University of Wisconsin-Green Bay's Cofrin Center for Biodiversity

Can you identify at least one bird species? Then YOU can help with the WI Breeding Bird Atlas II Project. Atlas Leaders need your help! Listen as Brown and Shawano County Coordinator, Erin Giese, teaches you the basics of atlasing, including how to recognize breeding behavior, enter data, and have fun. You can help with the Atlas simply by enjoying your backyard birds. Advanced atlasers are encouraged to attend and learn about the latest project results!

Thursday, February 16th at 7:00 pm

Bay Beach Wildlife Sanctuary (1660 E. Shore Dr., Green Bay)
Nature Center Estuary Room (downstairs)

Free and open to the public!